

WINNERS OF 25th ANNUAL NAMIC VISION AWARDS ANNOUNCED

NAMIC Vision Awards Winners Celebrated at the 2018 Multicultural TV Summit

NEW YORK, NY, USA, April 3, 2018

/EINPresswire.com/ -- The National Association for Multi-Ethnicity in Communications (NAMIC) today announced the winners of the 2018 NAMIC Vision Awards. Presented in partnership with NAMIC - Southern California, these awards recognize original programming that is reflective of the lives, spirit and contributions of people of color that best reflects the ethnic and cultural diversity of the viewing audience. This year's NAMIC Vision Awards winners were celebrated at The 2018 Multicultural TV Summit, an event exploring the business of targeting segments for TV and video.

HBO led all networks and distributors with an outstanding six NAMIC Vision Awards. HBO's original movie, "The Immortal Life of Henrietta Lacks", received top honors in this year's Original Movie or Special category with the movie's star, Oprah Winfrey, awarded Best Performance – Drama for her portrayal of Deborah Lacks. Rounding out HBO's six wins are awards for, "Baltimore Rising" (Documentary), "VICE News Tonight: Trump Chicago Gangs" (News/Informational), "George Lopez: The Wall, Live from Washington, D.C." (Variety/Talk Show), and "Insecure" (Comedy). Notably, the Comedy category resulted in a tie with "Insecure" sharing top honors with Universal Television/Netflix's, "Master of None". In addition, ESPN's original program "SC Featured: A League of Her Own" and original series "E60: Underdog" tied for top honors in the Sports category.

As diversity within our industry's consumer base continues to flourish, it is our responsibility to nurture this growth and continue to produce ethnically and culturally relevant content."

Sandra Girado, vice president of Events and Partner Relations, NAMIC

"Congratulations are extended to the winners of the 2018 NAMIC Vision Awards" said Sandra Girado, vice president of Events and Partner Relations, NAMIC. "As diversity within our industry's consumer base continues to flourish, it is our responsibility to nurture this growth and continue to produce ethnically and culturally relevant content reflective of the rich diversity of our viewing audience. NAMIC, in collaboration with the NAMIC - Southern California chapter, is honored to recognize the hard work of these deserving winners, and their achievements in the advancement of multiplatform programming."

A total of 31 networks and distributors competed for programming diversity honors presented in 17 award categories: Animation, Best Performance – Comedy, Best Performance – Drama, Children’s, Comedy, Digital Media – Long Form, Digital Media – Short Form, Documentary, Drama, Foreign Language, Lifestyle, News/Informational, Original Movie or Special, Reality, Reality – Social Issues, Sports, and Variety/Talk Show. In addition to HBO’s six awards, ESPN garnered four wins in three categories.

Networks and distributors garnering wins in a single category include ABC, Discovery Latin America/US Hispanic, Disney Junior, Fuse/Red Bull, NBC Asian America, Starz, The Fred Rogers Company/Curious World, Universal Television/Netflix, and VICELAND.

A judging panel of entertainment industry executives evaluated entries and selected winners based on overall imagery (creative merit, originality, and presentation quality), sensitivity (the consideration given to cultural nuances), writing (the depiction of issues relevant to people of color) and the quality of acting in the performance categories. Eligibility to compete for NAMIC Vision Awards is extended to national, network owned and operated, and affiliates of broadcast networks; national and regional cable networks; local origination programs from cable operators; first-run original program syndicators; and VOD content produced for digital platforms.
