

Dear Denver-NAMIC Board and Membership,

I am reaching out to everyone to inform our community of internal changes within our board and address our plans for future events that focus on relevant/current events, inviting discussion, thought leadership, and discourse presented in a safe and technologically sound manner.

Judy Brown, our President, has resigned her seat on the board and, as the Vice President, asked me to step in and help lead our board and NAMIC community in Denver through the rest of 2020 and into the next election cycle. The NAMIC-Denver Board thanks Judy for her leadership and service to the Denver NAMIC community. We wish Judy continued success in her future endeavors.

Until the new election this year, I am acting (at the direction of our board) as Interim-President of NAMIC-Denver and will do our best to guide us through 2020. Our goals as a board will be (as always) to increase our funding and grow our relationships with local partners to develop content that provides consistent value to our members.

It is with great humility to take on this responsibility to drive NAMIC-Denver through 2020 and into 2021. I am grateful for the support of the team that I am a part of and for all your commitments to representing diversity in the community.

Thank you,
Jean Hadzi,
Interim NAMIC-Denver President
